

Your 2013 Mercury Retrograde Cheat Sheet

In 2013, all the retrogrades are happening in Water Signs, so misunderstandings could happen because people are being overly emo or sensitive, and could get all passive-aggressive on you. (Or you on them ;)) Don't get drawn into that game!

Focus on staying open-minded and being receptive to epiphanies about your emotional, inner, psychic worlds.

February 23 - March 18 (in Pisces)

Take this chance to explore what spirituality means to you - what would make you feel more connected to everyone, to the Universe/Source. Don't over think things.

June 26 - July 21 (in Cancer)

Family (blood or otherwise) is the focus of this retrograde. Past issues may resurface. Resolution comes from keeping a big, generous heart, getting creative to find where the ideal and the practical meet.

October 21 - November 11 (in Scorpio)

This one's all about keeping it real. Whatever you dream of, take off your rose-coloured lenses and perceive the world around you. Then dig deep for Your truth. Great opportunity for self-transformation.

The above is a VERY general guide to the vibe of that particular retrograde.

How you experience the retrograde, depends on your personal Mercury, and also how the current Mercury links into your birth chart.

Keep in mind that your perception of what happens, and making conscious decisions on how you respond will make all the difference.
